

SAAPM SHARP: how serious are you?

By Cedrianna Page

Sexual assault is serious, but how serious are you?
realize that you and everyone around are worth more take note of what is happening and don't ignore sexual assault is serious but how serious are you?

1 in 3 women are assaulted in the military these are the women who are protecting your country this is 30% of your soldiers who are hurt 75% of women don't even make a report

We all say we are against it but who is standing up to prevent it not just in April but in all months of the year we have to take control and be aware

Saying "stop" every once in a while is not enough we must stand up and show "enough is enough" just like warning label on a pack of cigarettes the problem is no one is reading it

Nothing works if we are separate we must come together to eliminate it know your part do your part

sexual assault is serious but how serious are you?
take note of what is happening and don't ignore sexual assault is serious but not as serious as you
